

Designer & Sustainability Researcher Biography

Adrienne R. Schwarte, MFA

Professor of Design & Coordinator of Sustainability Studies Minor

Maryville College, Maryville, Tennessee

adrienne.schwarte@maryvillecollege.edu | 865-981-8154 | adrienneschwarte.com

Adrienne Schwarte is currently a Professor of Design, and Coordinator of the Sustainability Studies Minor at Maryville College in Maryville, Tennessee. She earned an M.F.A. in Multimedia Design with an emphasis in Educational Psychology from the University of Minnesota (Twin Cities, MN) and a B.A. in Communication and Art from Buena Vista University (Storm Lake, IA), and holds a Professional Certificate in Campus Sustainability Leadership from the Institute for Global Sustainability from the University of Vermont (Burlington, VT). She has worked as a graphic designer, photographer, consultant and communications specialist for over twenty years for companies and organizations such as the American Academy of Sleep Medicine (Rochester, Minnesota), the Iowa Natural Heritage Foundation (Des Moines, Iowa), KTTC-TV (NBC affiliate, Rochester, Minnesota), ByDesign Studio (Twin Cities, Minnesota) and the NHL Dallas Stars Hockey Team (Dallas, TX). She's provided design and consulting services for Parsons Public Relations (Seattle, WA), The Little River Watershed Association (Maryville, TN), Axios Law Group (Seattle, WA), In Defense of Animals-Africa (IDA-Africa) (Portland, OR), Mountain Challenge, Mane Support, Maryville College (Maryville, TN) and Plaza Property Services (Jacksonville, FL) among others. She regularly presents at conferences on sustainability, including the International Conference on Climate Change, the Association for the Advancement of Sustainability in Higher Education Annual Conferences (AASHE), the National Conference and Global Forum on Science, Policy and the Environment (NCSE) and the Association for Environmental Studies and Sciences (AESS).